

Narcotic Fight Funds Are Increased By President

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, announcing a $30 million increase in federal research and education efforts to fight narcotics traffic, says "drug addiction among school-age youth is increasing at an alarming rate."

Greater Effort Eyed
In a statement issued Wednesday, Nixon said:
"Although appropriations for drug education and training have grown six-fold between fiscal 1969 and fiscal 1971, the situation calls for much greater effort."

He called for $135.6 million in education and research funds for the fiscal year starting July 1, up from $105.8 million in the current budget year.

More Research Funds
One feature of the Nixon drug program will increase available money for marijuana research by the National Institute of Mental Health to $3.3 million in fiscal 1971, compared to $2.6 million currently.

Dr. Stanley F. Yolles, director of the institute, said researchers are convinced that marijuana "is not an innocuous drug" and can lead in some cases to toxic psychosis and disrupt patterns of thought, speech, and memory. He acknowledged, however, he knew of no documented case of the drug causing a single death.

No Answer To Problem
When asked if marijuana represented a more serious problem than alcohol, Yolles said: "We don't have the answer as yet. Both drugs have negative effects."

Nixon announced plans to spend $3.5 million through the Office of Education to train teachers and other school personnel in the fundamentals of drug abuse education. When spread among all the states, however, grants to each will be quite modest, ranging from $40,000 to $210,000 each.

Plan Clearing House
The President also has ordered the creation of a National Clearing House for Drug Abuse and Education "giving the public one central office to contact." Initially staffed by only 16 employees, its first-year budget will be less than $700,000.

One of the first undertakings by the clearing house, starting in May, will be distribution of a new book on drug abuse. It will be called, "A Federal Source Book: Answers to the Most Frequently Asked Questions About Drug Abuse."

Carswell Foes Gain Strength

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the Senate vote growing near, opponents of Judge Harold Carswell's Supreme Court nomination say they have gained strength, but concede they have a long way to go to reach victory.

Sen. Edward W. Brooke says 37 senators have pledged to vote against confirming the Southern federal appeals judge, and "I expect that number to increase."

But, admitted the Massachusetts Republican and the Senate's only black member Wednesday, "I'm realistic. It's going to be tough."

Assistant Democratic Leader Edward M. Kennedy, agreed opposition to Carswell has picked up, but cautions there appears to be only a long shot chance of defeating President Nixon's second nominee to fill the high court seat vacated by Abe Fortas.

Brooke, taking the Nixon administration to task for what he called a "cold, calculated, political decision" to adopt a negative civil rights policy, said the White House appears to be following a Southern strategy by writing off the black vote. The appointment of Carswell is an example of that strategy, he said.

Opponents have attacked the civil rights record of the Tallahassee, Fla., federal judge and what they consider to be his lack of qualifications to hold a Supreme Court seat.

Conference Unit Aids School Bill

LANSING (AP) — With a record $1.22-billion school aid bill headed toward a conference committee, the Michigan House takes up in earnest today the challenge to pay for it by raising some $400 million through increases in the state income tax.

Debate on the controversial tax proposal, a radical and substantial departure from Gov. William G. Milliken's own recommendations, began Wednesday in the House.

Supporters of the huge school aid bill, containing a $22-million fund for aid to parochial schools, broke a delaying action by its opponents and sent the measure back to the Senate—nearly three months after the Upper Chamber passed it at a much lower level.

Antiparochial forces, led by GOP Minority Leader Robert E. Waldron, lost roll calls on three motions aimed at preventing release of the bill.

Now priced at $247 million above the level approved by the Senate and $171 more than Milliken recommended, the bill is expected to be rejected by the Senate but referred to a six-to-eight member conference committee for final adjustment.

The companion tax measure, proposed by Rep. Roy Spencer, R-Attica, and hammered out in stiff, head-to-head bargaining with House Speaker William A. Ryan, calls for boosting state income tax rates by nearly 35 per cent; individual taxes would go from the present 2.6 per cent to 3.5 per cent; corporate taxes from 5.6 to 7.7 per cent; bank (financial institutions) rates from 7 to 9.5 per cent.

Opponents of the Spencer-Ryan proposal charge the measure never will come to a vote in the House because re-election-conscious legislators will go to any length to avoid taking a stand on the measure.

The joint conference committee on the school aid bill is expected to reduce the House's high-water stand, and some legislators say those cuts will make the radical tax plan unnecessary.

The governor's own tax package, originally called for elimination of the income-tax credit for payment of property taxes, was reduced to a partial credit cut after predictions of severe economic hardship in the auto industry this year.

Attendance Up

Hike Approved In Jobless Pay

LANSING (AP) — Taking note of tight money and layoffs of automobile workers in Michigan, the State Senate today voted to hike unemployment compensation benefits by up to $11 a week.

The Senate vote was 31 - 2 in favor of increasing the benefits. The so-called "cost-of-living" increase would go into effect in about one month if the pending legislation is approved by both House and Senate and signed by Gov. William Milliken.

The governor endorsed an increase for the "temporarily unemployed" in a recent speech to the Michigan State Building and Construction Trades Council.

The Senate went through preliminary debate on the bill Wednesday.

An identical measure, pending in the House, meanwhile, was moved to the head of the calendar of items facing initial action.

The bill, sponsored in the Senate by Oscar Bouwsma, R-Muskegon, calls for increases of $7-$11 a week for the unemployed, depending on the number of persons the out-of-work individual must support.

An automobile company worker with a wife and three children, for instance, would receive $87 weekly, up $11 from the present $76 weekly payment.

A single man would get $53 a week, compared to $46 weekly now.

The bill also would increase to $25 the current $15 minimum a person must have earned weekly to qualify for unemployment compensation benefits.

Sen. Robert VanderLaan, R-Grand Rapids, called the increase "meaningless" because "if a person doesn't make $2-$3 an hour today, he must have a very poor job."

VanderLaan said the suggested increases were recommended by an advisory committee made up of both labor and employer representatives. "It does not represent the small businessman," VanderLaan added.

Laos Situation Major Issue In Washington

Critics Fear Another War Like Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — The little war in Laos has blossomed today into one of the major issues occupying the Senate, with critics of President Nixon's policies in the tiny Asian nation basing their objections on two grounds:

—Fear of another Vietnam.
—General disagreement with U.S. policy in Southeast Asia.

Two leading Republicans—Minority Leader Hugh Scott and Sen. George Aiken of Vermont—charge politics plays a role in the predominantly Democratic criticism of the President.

Critics Not New
But virtually all Laos critics, including some Republicans, are those who have repeatedly objected to U.S. policies in Vietnam under both the Johnson and Nixon administrations.

The President's effort to clear the air by issuing a detailed statement on U.S. activities has clearly failed to still Senate criticism.

Some senators now say privately that, if everything the administration says on Laos could be believed, their fears would be substantially lessened.

Senators Wary
But their experience on Vietnam, when they believed the Johnson administration to their later regret, makes them wary.

Many see a repetition of the course that got the United States into Vietnam. "It is following the same pattern," Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said, "first, aid, then logistics support, then air power, and then GIs," adding quickly "I don't think the GIs will go into Laos."

Need Reaffirmed
A resolution introduced Wednesday by Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee—which would put the Senate on record as reaffirming the need for congressional action before U.S. armed forces become involved in combat "in or over Laos"—is designed to keep pressure on the administration to prevent an increase in U.S. involvement.

Doubts Heightened
The doubt about the administration's intentions has been heightened by the events of the past week, in which the President originally said "no American stationed in Laos has ever been killed in ground combat operations."

This was followed by the disclosure that one, and then 27, and then nearly 50 Americans had died during operations on the ground in Laos.

Although the administration has admitted it erred, and pledged to list casualties in Laos each week, the damage to its credibility had been done.

A HOME, which Philadelphia police said was believed to be the headquarters for the Black Panther Society, was raided Wednesday. Police said they found the room sandbagged and plastered with photos of Black Panther leaders. Raiders seized 150 rounds of ammunition, three guns and took into custody four youths and three teen-age girls. (AP Wirephoto)

Seek Mystery Woman In Courthouse Blast

CAMBRIDGE, Md. (AP) — A mystery woman was sought today by police investigating possible links between two bombings and the arson-riot trial of black militant H. Rap Brown.

Witnesses said the woman was in the Dorchester County Courthouse a few hours before a powerful explosive device blew a big hole in the building.

The blast early Wednesday followed by about 24 hours an explosion in a car on the outskirts of Bel Air—scene of Brown's trial—which killed two Negro men.

One has been identified as Ralph Featherstone, 31, and the second, tentatively, as William Herman Payne, 25. Both Featherstone and Payne had been associates of Brown in civil rights campaigns.

Brown did not show up for a trial session Tuesday and his whereabouts continued to be a mystery. He is accused of arson and inciting others to commit arson and to riot during 1967 racial disorders here in which 16 buildings were destroyed.

The trial was shifted from Cambridge to Bel Air, 68 miles north across Chesapeake Bay, because of fear that it might touch off further disturbances in this city of 12,000.

Brown's attorney, William M. Kunstler, has obtained postponement of further court proceedings until Monday.

"A pattern has developed in this case, and there may be more and more incidents if the trial resumes," Kunstler declared Wednesday.

Lt. Col. Thomas S. Smith of the Maryland State Police told newsmen the woman sought in the courthouse bombing "is only a suspect."

"She is only suspect because she was seen in and around the courthouse Tuesday before closing," Smith said. "She is from out of state. We have a very good description and a possible name."

Smith declined to identify the state, or to release the name. Smith said the woman was white.

Phouma Issues Cease-Fire Plan

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma said today his royal Lao government is "ready for a cease-fire," but North Vietnam must withdraw its troops before there is a cessation of American bombing in Laos.

The chief of state acknowledged in an interview that American bombing raids had been stepped up in recent months at his request in response to an increased North Vietnamese threat.

Scuvanna was asked about a new peace proposal by the Communist Pathet Lao, calling for a cease-fire and an end to U.S. intervention in Laos.

"Let's not talk uniquely about aerial bombardment," the premier said. "We must also talk about the presence of North Vietnamese troops. The two things are tied together, on one hand the withdrawal of the North Vietnamese troops and on the other hand the stopping of the bombardment . . .

"In order to remove the effect, you must remove the cause of the bombing which is the presence of North Vietnamese troops in Laos."

Prince Souvanna agreed with President Nixon's statement that North Vietnam infiltrated more than 13,000 additional troops into Laos during the past few months, raising their total strength in the country to more than 67,000.

"There is now in Laos more North Vietnamese than last year," Souvanna said. "Some journalists think that North Vietnamese troops are mostly on the Ho Chi Minh trail, which is wrong."

Foresees Plan To Annihilate Black Panthers

WASHINGTON (AP) — A member of a congressional panel investigating police treatment of the Black Panthers said Wednesday he is convinced there is a plan to annihilate the military Negro group.

"Absolutely, positively, definitely yes," Rep. John Conyers, D-Mich., replied when asked whether the investigation points to a conspiracy by police and federal law agencies to wipe out the Panthers.

The Negro congressman said also the harassment and killing have given the Panthers a broad support they never could have earned on their own.

He told a news briefing that the 600 pages of statements and exhibits collected by a congressional ad hoc committee have removed any doubts he had that the Panthers have been systematically hunted and prodded into confrontations.

He said he has looked for and found no instances where a Panther "aggressively hunted out the police and killed them. In all the encounters, there was a confrontation initiated by the police."

The committee, led by Rep. Charles Diggs, D-Mich., also a Negro, began its inquiry after Chicago police killed two Panthers, Fred Hampton and Mark Clark.

Conyers said it is hardly accidental that "Panthers have been killed, hounded out of communities and out of existence."

"The amazing thing is that this has done more for the Panthers than anything the Panthers could have done by themselves."

"The black community was less than enthusiastic about the Panthers before the killings last fall."

But he asserted that now not only the blacks but many whites insist publicly on the Panthers' right to exist.

Parochial School Will Close Doors

CROSWELL (AP) — A parochial school in Sanilac County will close its doors for good at the end of the present school year, but not from a lack of money.

The Rev. Donald Christensen, pastor of St. Patrick's Parish in Croswell, said the closing is being forced by the withdrawal of two teaching sisters. Father Christensen said he was told the sisters are being removed because their order, the Sisters of St. Joseph, is realigning itself to compensate for dwindling personnel.

Mid-Manhattan Offices Bombed

NEW YORK (AP) — Bombs exploded in the mid-Manhattan skyscraper offices of three giant industrial corporations early today, marking the second such attack on businesses in three months. The blasts caused extensive damage but no injuries were reported.

An anonymous male caller telephoned police to warn of the impending explosions at the offices of Mobil Oil Co., International Business Machines and General Telephone & Electronics, and the buildings were evacuated.

Police said the caller also warned of a bomb at a fourth site, an office building housing the New York offices of Litton Industries, but there was no explosion there and a search turned up no device.

The blasts were the latest in a series of bombings that have hit Manhattan skyscrapers and federal buildings. Five persons were charged in connection with a four-month sequence of bombings last November.

More recently there was the explosion of a Greenwich Village townhouse where police said members of a militant left-wing group were fashioning bombs and apparently bungled the job.

Police were reported checking any possible link between the townhouse group and the earlier case. Anonymous letters to news media said the earlier bombings were blows against American big business, the government and the military.

Today's blasts were supposed to have gone off at 1:40 a.m., the caller told police when he telephoned at 1:06 a.m.

The first went off on schedule in a 34th floor public hallway at the Mobil office on East 42nd Street. It caused extensive structural damage, the fire department said.

The second occurred 15 minutes later on the 12th floor of the IBM office at 425 Park Avenue

Annual Accounting:

City Valuation Up; Tax Payment Down

By CLINT DUNATHAN

Services the government provides for the people are paid for in taxes assessed against the people by government.

At the local level this includes services such as schools, county and city government—and sometimes a levy to finance township government.

A portion of the cost of these services is paid for in levies against property on the tax rolls in the cities and the townships.

Taxpayers Slow

Each year at this time there is sort of an annual accounting, in which tax assessors bring property valuation figures to the city and township boards of equalization and review for adjustment and finalization.

Physical growth, plus inflationary factors, will bring an increase in the taxable valuations in 1970; but there appears to be (at least in the City of Escanaba) a resistance to higher taxes on the part of the citizens, for the percentage of county and school tax collections in the city at this time is the lowest in many years.

City property owners were 12.30 per cent delinquent in county and school tax payments in March 1968; but in March this year the delinquency was 31.86 per cent—a delinquency increase of 19 per cent.

Whether this situation is peculiar to the City of Escanaba will not be known until delinquent rolls from Gladstone and the townships are reported to the county treasurer.

Meanwhile, in Escanaba, City Assessor Charles Schmidt and the Board of Equalization and Review are working toward completion of the 1970 tax roll—and it will show an increase over the 1969 total valuation figure of $38,983,750.

Tower Question

How much has yet to be determined definitely, said Schmidt. Adjustments have been made in some instances and others are pending. On Tuesday at the Civic Center the Board of Review, of which Roy Jensen is chairman this year, heard 39 "customers" and on Wednesday 36 for a total of 75.

Some of the questions confronting the assessor and the Board require study, others are more quickly decided, and in all instances laws establish the correct procedure.

One of the questions has been resolved, at least for the moment, in connection with an assessment on the $2.6 million Senior Citizens tower apartment nearing completion in Escanaba.

Presently the property is owned by the developers, Blumenfeld & Rakita, Milwaukee. When it is completed they will turn it over to the City of Escanaba Housing Commission and it will then become non-taxable public property later this year.

On Feb. 4, 1969, however, as of Dec. 31, 1969, the assessment date, it was placed on the tax rolls for $500,000. Irving Blumenfeld was in Escanaba on Tuesday, protested the figure, and it was reduced to $450,000. (Under state law this represents one-half the total value as of the Dec. 31 date.) Blumenfeld is being informed of the adjustment.

The $450,000 valuation will bring in $22,500 in taxes for city, county and school purposes in 1970.

After the Senior Citizens 18-story apartment tower becomes public property, it will pay no taxes—but in lieu of taxes it will pay 10 per cent of its rentals to the city for services, said John Gannon, Housing director. Presumably the city will pay a proportionate share to the county and the schools in lieu of taxes.

There are 176 units in the apartment building. The payment in lieu of taxes will be about $60 per year per unit, Gannon explained. This will total about $10,560 per year after the building becomes publicly owned.

Pay No Taxes

The picture then, so far as the present information goes, is like this:

One partially-completed apartment building, assessed for $450,000, will bring in $22,500 this year.

The completed $2.6 million structure will not be on the rolls next year and in lieu of taxes will pay approximately $10,560.

Senior Citizens housing will not be the only non-taxable property in the area, of course, for statutes provide that church and non-profit corporation properties are not taxed. In Escanaba the non-taxable properties range from a Rod & Gun Club to the Bishop Noa Home for Senior Citizens.

Smoke Awakens Mother; Family Saved From Fire

An Escanaba family, routed from its mobile home by fire early Wednesday, is temporarily with relatives today—and grateful for escaping unharmed from the flames.

"It was about a quarter to 5 Wednesday morning when I was awakened by the smell of smoke," said Mrs. Paul Dubord, who with her husband, a retired Harnischfeger employee and her daughters, Mary Lou 18 and Pauline, 14, fled from the burning mobile home at Phil & Lee's.

"I thought the smoke was coming from the direction of the kitchen, and then I could see that it was nearer the furnace room," Mrs. Dubord said today.

Quickly she roused her husband and children and then ran screaming for help across the street and called the fire department.

"They came right away, but it went up so fast—it was fortunate I woke up when I did—for within another few minutes—"

Investigation today disclosed the fire started around a water heating tank in the bathroom. The family lost all of its personal belongings, escaping only in nightclothing, but the loss is insured, said Mrs. Dubord.

The Dubords today are staying with Mrs. Dubord's sister, Mrs. Oliver Roman and family at 222 N. 13th St.

1968 Violation Nets Jail Term

Napoleon J. Viau Jr., 26, of Milwaukee, who was arrested by State Police Feb. 28 on a District Court warrant from a 1968 conservation charge, was sentenced to four days in the county jail and ordered to pay a total of $81 in fine, costs and fees by Judge Dean Shipman in District Court Wednesday.

Viau, formerly of Rapid River, also has his 1970 hunting privileges revoked and was placed on probation for an additional 24 months during which time he must not face another game violation charge.

He had been arrested in November, 1968, in Masonville Township on a charge of using an artificial light in hunting deer, but failed to appear for trial after posting bond. He pleaded guilty to the charge this week.

The court also forfeited his $200 bond.

Nine-Day Week To Begin For Delta DeMolay Unit

A week will be nine days long this month for members of Delta Chapter, International Order of DeMolay.

Although the 1970 DeMolay Week does not begin officially until Sunday, 10 members of Delta Chapter with their advisors will leave Friday for a spring workshop program at Bay City on Saturday as a "kickoff" to the week-long observance.

The week will feature special projects and programs at most of the 2,500 chapters in the United States and Canada, including installation of officers in Escanaba Saturday, March 25, at the Masonic Temple.

"The Order of DeMolay plays a vital role in offering young a healthy outlet for developing leadership skills and abilities," said Robert M. Jenshak of Escanaba, advisor for Delta Chapter.

Three-Way Program

Although the organization's ritual and meetings are serious and reverent, no particular religious creed is advocated, Jenshak pointed out. The organization teaches only a profound faith in God.

"DeMolay provides a three-way program designed to benefit the individual, the chapter and the community," he said.

Delta Chapter was organized in Escanaba in 1926, only seven years after the international organization was founded in Kansas City, Mo., by the late Frank S. Land and nine high school boys. There are presently about 40 active members from the Delta County area in the local chapter, which is sponsored by Delta Lodge 195, F. & A. M. The DeMolay Advisory Council is composed of six Master Masons from Delta Lodge.

DeMolay meetings are held the first and third Mondays of each month at the Masonic Temple.

Open To Public

Delta Chapter members, who distributed and collected canisters for the Muscular Dystrophy Drive in January as a community service project, said the installation of officers March 25 is open to the public.

The DeMolay organization is named for Jacques DeMolay, last grand master of the Knights Templar who was burned at the stake by King Phillip of France on March 18, 1314, as a martyr to loyalty and toleration. DeMolays today strive to carry on the fine ideals for which DeMolay gave his life—loyalty and service to God and fellow man, Jenshak said.

Since its founding, more than three million young men have been members and today there are about 160,000 active members in the 2,500 chapters. About 30,000 adult leaders are involved. In addition, there are more than 2,000 Mothers' Clubs working with chapter activities.

Air Ordinance Delayed, Pending Kelley Opinion

RAPID RIVER — Further consideration of a county air pollution control ordinance was withheld Wednesday night by the Delta County Board of Supervisors pending an attorney general's opinion on whether or not the county can legally adopt such an ordinance.

Decision by the Board of Supervisors was made after a recommendation from Prosecuting Attorney John Beauchamp, who serves as legal counsel to the board.

Beauchamp reported he has asked Attorney Gen. Frank Kelley for an opinion on the legality of a county ordinance.

A Delta County Air Pollution Control Ordinance has been drafted and has been discussed at length by the board. Beauchamp had previously indicated that because Delta County is not a home-rule county there is a legal question over whether or not a county ordinance could be enforced in the individual governmental units — cities and townships — which make up the county without their consent.

In other actions, the board:

- resolved that no dog license shall be issued in the county unless accompanied by proof of vaccination for rabies within one year prior to the date of application;
- referred the ambulance service bid of $8,400 annually by City Ambulance Service to the prosecuting attorney for study and possible drafting of a contract;
- asked for legislation that would allow the county to discontinue publishing its minutes in a newspaper as copies of the minutes are available to anyone interested at the county clerk's office, and

- accepted the bid of $15,157 from Addressograph - Multigraph Corp., Cleveland, O., for new tax roll writing equipment for the county. The bid was the only one received.

A request from the County Library Board for an additional 1970 appropriation was tabled and consideration of financial requests from Pinecrest Medical Care Facility was referred to the finance committee.

Chairman Frank Stupak and possibly another board member will attend the meeting of the Michigan Air Pollution Control Commission in Lansing next Tuesday at which time a report from the Chicago & North Western Railway Co. on progress on dust control equipment for the ore terminal in Escanaba and a hearing on the application by the Mead Corp. for a construction permit for a kraft pulp mill at the Escanaba Paper Co. will be considered.

It was also reported that the District 1 (Upper Peninsula) organizational meeting of the Michigan Association of Counties is scheduled April 3 - 4 at Marquette.

$500 Monthly Pension Top Aim Of Workers

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Although conceding it will be a tough year economically at the bargaining table, skilled tradesmen of the United Auto Workers propose new contracts include a $500 monthly pension after 30 years' service regardless of age.

They were expected today to recommend that the 1.5 million member union also fight this year for a "substantial wage increase" in negotiations with General Motors, Ford, Chrysler and American Motors and their suppliers.

The current average wage in the auto industry as a whole now is $4.02 hourly.

A convention of 1,306 delegates representing more than 225,000 UAW skilled tradesmen voted unanimously Wednesday to support a minimum $500 monthly pension, with a proviso under which it would advance with the cost of living index.

Delegates had indicated earlier this would be a major recommendation by them to a goals-setting UAW general convention next month.

And they proposed that the higher pension demand be pressed when new contracts are negotiated in the aerospace and agriculture implement industries.

With only about a dozen dissenting votes, the skilled tradesmen also adopted a proposal Wednesday that the union fight against any limit on cost-of-living allowances in a new contract.

In addition, they proposed that individual workers be given the right to accept or reject overtime assignments. The automakers now have authority to designate who shall work overtime and in the past have fought any change, contending it would disrupt production.

Proposals of the skilled tradesmen were adopted against a backdrop of lagging new car sales and a layoff of an estimated 30,000 automakers in recent weeks. Some speakers forecast 1970 will be the union's toughest bargaining year since recession-beset 1958.

The UAW, which won its first company-paid pension in 1949, estimated there is close to $4 billion now in various pension trust funds within the automotive industry.

Under current three-year contracts expiring next Sept. 14 with the automakers, it is possible for a worker with 30 year's service to retire at age 60 on a $400 monthly pension.

But when an early retiree reaches age 65 and his social security benefits begin, he reverts under present contracts to a normal company-paid pension of $5.50 or $6 monthly for each year of service. His pension rate depends upon his wage at retirement.

The present contracts limit cost of living increases to eight cents hourly per year.

Ferency Raps 'War' Economy

FLINT (AP)—Zolton Ferency, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, says Michigan faces a possible "gigantic" deficit during the coming fiscal year.

Ferency blames "the predictable and disastrous economic consequences of inflation caused by the war in Vietnam" for much of Michigan's problem.

His comments came in a speech to a meeting of Ferency campaign volunteers in the Flint and Genesee County area Wednesday.

"For more than a decade, the vast majority of the American people have been lulled into a false sense of security and prosperity by the regular clink of salary and wage dollars produced by a booming wartime economy," he said.

"In the meantime, the full, horrible burden of war has been largely borne by hundreds of thousands of young men facing the draft and military service in a universally unpopular conflict of vague definition and purpose."

Ferency said Americans and Michigan citizens in particular "are now paying through the nose for our earlier refusal to face up to the demands of one of the costliest wars in American history."

Noting recent layoffs in Michigan industry, Ferency said: "Because it is based to a large degree on past performance of sales, use, and income taxes, the 1970-71 state budget may be reduced to a mere scrap of paper even before it is completed."

"Unless state expenditures are reduced drastically, the certain failure of a shrinking Michigan economy to meet the revenue demands of a nearly $2 billion budget will produce a state treasury deficit of gigantic proportions."

Health Planning

The nation that sent men to the moon and back, that produced the first atomic bomb and that has scored so many spectacular achievements in science has a long way to go to establish world supremacy in the health of its citizens.

This was forcefully illustrated in a lecture in the Upper Peninsula by Dr. Andrew Hunt Jr., dean of the Michigan State University College of Human Medicine. Dr. Hunt pointed out that the United States ranks 12th among nations in female life expectancy, 14th in male life expectancy and "about 16th" in infant mortality.

In Michigan, a state that is not notorious for substandard living conditions, there are areas in Detroit, Grand Rapids and Lansing where the infant death rate is 100 per 1,000 live births, "similar to the rate in some African states," Dr. Hunt declared. The average for the United States is 25 deaths per 1,000 live births.

Dr. Hunt called these "miserable data" and said they are "largely due to discrepancies in health and survival rates of blacks vs. whites and of poor vs. rich." Among other major health problems in the United States he cited the shortage of physicians in some areas ("as doctors are dying or retiring in rural Michigan, they're not being replaced") and high medical costs.

"Hospital costs and costs of health care in general are increasing at about twice the rate of other cost indices in the United States," the physician-educator said, "and there seems to be no evidence that the medical or hospital professions or any other profession, if left to itself, will solve the problem."

Dr. Hunt didn't seem to have the solution to the problem, either, although he placed much stress on comprehensive health planning and traced the attempted solutions that led up to this concept. (Dr. Hunt also happens to be chairman of the State Comprehensive Health Planning Advisory Council.)

Since 1912, he said, the federal government has had "a kind of policy that those who couldn't pay for medical care would receive it with some kind of federal support."

In 1917, the American Medical Association surprisingly recommended national health insurance, but after World War I, the AMA "began to move into a more conservative position."

The Medicare effort was begun in the early 1960s and culminated with enactment of the program for aiding the elderly later in the decade.

Meanwhile, the comprehensive health planning program was enacted in 1966, along with the regional medical program to provide medicine give better service to heart, cancer and stroke patients.

"There was recognition that health is a right of all American citizens and not a privilege of those who can pay for it," Dr. Hunt said, and "it was inevitable that health planning became an integral part of society."

Basically, comprehensive health planning seeks to place the decision-making force for health care at the local level. It fosters the involvement of local citizens in the decision-making process and it tries to guarantee a greater voice for the users of health services (the consumers) by giving them more positions on health planning councils than are allotted to those who are professionals in the health field (the providers of health services.)

This attempt to establish grass roots control over health services is commendable. But like so many programs that hold great promise on paper, this one bogs down in the world of reality.

In the final analysis, the federal and state governments retain control over the program through financing. It order to obtain funding, local planning councils must beat their way through a bureaucratic morass and try to comply with standards that sound like a Chinese puzzle-maker's nightmare. Local councils find themselves frequently thwarted by actions taken on the state level.

The concept of comprehensive community health planning remains sound. The execution of the concept, however, shows much room for improvement. When the necessary refinements have been made, comprehensive health planning may well justify the faith people like Dr. Hunt have placed in it.

Peninsula Potpourri

Subpoenas have been served witnesses who are to appear in Houghton County Circuit Court during hearings in the case of the Michigan Judicial Tenure Commission against District Judge Bert M. Heideman.

A new derrick boat costing nearly half a million dollars has been authorized for the Corps of Engineers at Sault Ste. Marie. A contract for $458,900 was awarded by the Detroit District of the U. S. Corps of Engineers for design and construction of the boat for delivery to Sault Ste. Marie. The new boat will be named the Nicolet. The boat will operate behind the sweep raft, removing obstacles from the channels, harbor and locks area.

About 150 school children at Mass are being immunized against infectious hepatitis following a report of a seventh case since January in this small western Upper Peninsula community. The school children, all enrolled at Mass-Greenland Elementary School, were given precautionary treatment Sunday after another student contracted the liver disease. Five of the hepatitis cases involved one family while two others were reportedly unrelated to any other cases.

The Lake Linden-Hubbell Sportsmen's Association has voted unanimously to oppose any further planting of the Coho salmon in the Great Lakes. It appears, said the members, that the planting of these fish has caused and will cause much pollution to our already partly polluted waters, because of die-offs after spawning.

'China Lobby' Silent But Remains On Alert

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

The China Lobby—meaning, of course, the anti-Mao Tse-tung Lobby—has been pronounced dead by the Liberal Establishment. The demise, according to Warren Unna of the Washington Post, was without benefit of an obituary.

Well, if we do have a corpse on our hands, it's a mighty lively one.

I happen to be on the mailing list of the Committee of One Million Against the Admission of Communist China to the United Nations. This committee, since the death some years ago of Alfred Kohlberg, the New York importer of Hong Kong laces, has been the only thing in the way of a China Lobby that has existed.

Its mailings still come thick and fast: only recently it turned out an excellent pamphlet, "Twenty Years of Tyranny: Communist China, 1949-69." In December, former Congressman Walter Judd, the chairman of the Committee of One Million, challenged the Columbia Broadcasting System to give equal time to his organization in order to rectify a "misleading" CBS-TV News Special, "Triangle of Conflict . . . China, Russia and the U. S." which ignored both the eye-witness accounts of refugees from mainland China and the numerous experts on Asia who happen to disagree with the John Fairbank-Owen Lattimore school of be-nice-to-Mao Sinologists.

The real point to be made, however, is that nobody needs a "China Lobby" to keep Red China out of the UN. Mao Tse-tung and his mates manage to do that very well by themselves. It's just as Walter Judd says: the Peking government, by its intransigent behavior, always manages to alienate a majority of the UN members every time the question of admission comes up.

The steering committee of the Committee of One Million Against the Admission of Communist China to the United Nations includes such senatorial stalwarts as Minority Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, Peter Dominick of Colorado, and Ernest Hollings of South Carolina. These are not "intransigent" men; they would dearly love to see Red China signify its intention to abide by the principles of the UN Charter, and (to use President Nixon's words) meet the principles that new members admitted to the United Nations are supposed to meet.

If it's a matter of meeting Peking halfway, the Committee of One Million would surely like to know Mao Tse-tung's notion of the appropriate halfway point. In more than 20 years Mao has budged an inch.

Some of us who distrust Red China have kept quiet about the resumption of talks between Peking diplomats and U. S. representatives in Poland.

We have never been against talking. We'd like to think that something good may come of face-to-face palaver about better trade and travel relations and a better general understanding regarding the peace of the Orient.

But, before the talks were interrupted a couple of years ago while Red China went off on its "cultural revolution" isolationist spree, nothing ever came of the "jaw jaw" that Winston Churchill rightly said was better than "war war." By actual count there were more than 130 talks in Geneva and Warsaw. It was Mao Tse-tung, not the U. S. State Department, who interrupted the talks. Is there any good reason to suppose that the new palaver will be any more fruitful than the old?

There is a possibility, of course, that Red China will try to make its Pacific Ocean front safe while it pursues its quarrel along the long inner Asia border with Soviet Russia. But matters here are not to be hurried.

The Red Chinese-U. S. and the Red Chinese-Soviet Russia talks are interlocked, and the interlocking means that we must mark time. If things get worse between Moscow and Peking, as they may do, the relations between Mao and the West will naturally improve by default. With Red China in real trouble in Sinkiang, the negotiations between Peking and Canada and Peking and Italy might amount to something. A shoot-out between Russia and Red China would let the U. S. off the hook in Vietnam, and would surely mean a relaxation of Peking's continuing war of nerves against Taiwan. However, there is nothing the U. S. can do save wait on the quarrel between the two great Communist empires.

There is little need of an obstreperous "China Lobby" during the period of watchful waiting. The Committee of One Million, however, is assuredly not dead.

If Red China were to try to shoot its way into the UN, or if it were to patch up its quarrel with Moscow and go all out to take over Southeast Asia, we'd hear plenty from Walter Judd's far from moribund organization.

Letters To The Press

REMOVE DEAD SALMON

Mr. Warren Lee (Letters to the Press, March 5) says he is greatly alarmed over the planting of salmon in the east and west branches of the Whitefish River.

I try to think of myself as a true sportsman and I, myself, cannot see "the art of fishing coho," but I do not quite consider it a "comedy." To me it is the only answer to a very bad problem.

As a sportsman and a trout fisherman, along with general fishing, I really try to see the non-trout man's problem . . . That is the shad problem.

I travel a large number of streams that feed into the lake and have seen and caught shad minnows several miles from the big lake. Will these shad minnows eat the fry of trout and other fish? After they have about cleaned out everything smaller than they are in the streams they drop down the stream to the big lake and continue to destroy game fish spawn and fry. When that's gone they then move into deep water to feed.

The coho and king are the only means of getting rid of the shad. So, until there's a better way, we have to make some sacrifices in order to do the most good for everyone . . . "Snagging?"

No true fisherman likes to snag his fish and I don't like to see it, either, but why waste the fish? If they are caught soon enough on their way up to spawn they are good eating. I know, I got several. Discoloration does not mean they are no good . . .

"Snagging" is the only way to catch these fish. True, I have caught about seven in the lake in six days of trolling eight or nine hours a day (in the mouth). All the while, several hundred were jumping within eyesight of my boat.

Every snagged fish is removed from the river . . . and through our deep concern we fail to see the end result is far better for everyone.

Now, if we really want to do something to help all sports fishermen, let's all get together and stop the DNR from letting the salmon die and rot in the streams and lakes, polluting them.

As they (DNR) said, the coho have a lot of DDT in them that they have filtered out of the lake. Now, it only stands to reason son that by removing the dead salmon we are reducing the amount of DDT in the lake water and this is not a downstate program, it is the answer to a statewide problem.

ANSWERS, ANSWERS

Air pollution, water pollution, why keep planting those useless cohos in our so-called fresh, cool waters of Little and Big Bays de Noc?

Why doesn't the Department of Natural Resources plant trout, perch, bass and other edible fish, instead of those unappetizing, so untasty so-called "salmon"?

Why not promote good sport fishing instead of having our game wards arresting fishermen who are accidentally "snagging" those ungamy fish called "cohos"?

Where are the boats in the summer, the fish shanties in the winter? They are in "dry dock" rotting and drying to waste.

Who wants to spend their summers without being on the lakes and streams, the winters wondering when it would be suitable to place a shanty on the ice to catch a mess of edible fish?

What's your answer, Department of Natural Resources? You will have a "die off" of cohos to be washed ashore and causing a stench. Remember some years ago with our silvery smelt?

Listen and read what our U. P. Game Protection Association wants and pleads for.

(Editor's Note: Accidental foul hooking or "snagging" coho salmon is allowed in Michigan providing the angler's gear does not exceed specifications.)

European telephone directories often print a suggested guide for phonetic spelling. In Spain, for example, it is "C" as in Carmen; in France, "M" as in Mimi; and in Germany, "O" as in Oskar. Spelling phonetically is more complicated in India where the phone book suggests "A" as in Allahabad and "M" as in Mahabaleshwar.

The bidding:
South West North East
1 ♠ 4 ♥ 4 NT Pass
5 ♠ Pass 6 NT Pass

One of the most valuable bidding conventions ever devised is the Blackwood convention, by which a side can determine how many aces or kings it has.

The chief trouble with Blackwood is that players tend to use it to excess, showing such an absorbing interest in aces and kings that they lose sight of the main objective, which is how many tricks they can take.

Blackwood should be used only in hands where a knowledge of the number of aces and kings will determine the best final contract. If other factors are also important, such as voids, singletons, intermediate cards, trump length, and so on, the convention should not be used. Natural bidding is better in such hands.

For a clear case of the proper use of Blackwood, consider North's four notrump bid in this deal. If his partner has two aces, North wants to be in six spades; if South has three aces, North may well decide to undertake seven spades. And if South has only one ace, North intends to stop at five spades.

When the hand was actually played, South responded five hearts and North quite properly leaped to six spades.

This fine contract would ordinarily have been made except that West, who had listened attentively to the bidding, decided that normal defense would not stop the slam.

It appeared to him that if he led a high heart he might be lucky enough to win the trick—if North and South each had a heart—but beyond that he saw no hope of a second trick. His opponents had bid much too confidently for him to expect his partner to produce the setting trick.

So West decided to stake his hopes on East's having the eight of hearts. Accordingly, his opening lead was the heart deuce.

East won with the eight and, after recovering from his initial surprise, had no trouble finding the lethal club return.

Penn Central RR Asking Cutback Of Westerly Run

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's largest railway passenger carrier has asked the Interstate Commerce Commission to approve discontinuance of 34 east-west, long distance passenger trains by April 15.

The request by Penn Central Co. would be the largest such discontinuance in history and would leave New York City without long distance train service on a westerly route.

Chicago would be left without long distance service to the East with the exception of the Baltimore & Ohio's Capital Limited which travels to Washington, D.C.

Penn Central said Tuesday in a petition to the ICC that the action is essential if the railroad is to eliminate huge deficits. It said a $104.8 million loss in 1969 passenger operations left it with an over-all $56.3 million deficit last year.

Anti-Pollution Plans Unveiled

DETROIT (AP) — The nation's two largest automakers have announced that they are taking steps to make possible control of engine exhaust emission of cars built before the first emission antipollution standards took effect in 1966.

General Motors is planning to market a package of modifications to carburetors and distributors which will cut emissions of cars built before 1966 by 30 to 50 per cent, GM President Edward N. Cole said in a speech recently.

And Ford Motor Co. said it was working with the California Air Resources Commission to field-test emission control systems developed for older cars by making modifications on 30 pre-1966 cars and light trucks of the California Division of Highways.

Ann Landers

Hubby Eyes Change After 25th Season

Dear Ann Landers: Shortly after our 25th wedding anniversary my husband informed me there would be some changes made. He announced that starting now he is going to do all the things he has wanted to do—with or without me. Moreover, he made it clear that a quarter of a century of complete fidelity is more than most women get and a heck of a lot better than I deserve. According to him, I am shallow, indifferent, unresponsive, and totally without initiative or imagination.

He plans to travel, eat out, go to the theater and spend time with friends. He said, "You can devote the rest of your life to housework, fussing about the kids, polishing silver and sleeping since that seems to be what you enjoy most."

My husband is attractive, charming and financially well off. He won't have any trouble finding company. Many of the points he has made are valid. I am in a state of shock. Any advice?—Ada

Dear Ada: Snap out of it and read the second sentence of your letter. Apparently he has given you a few options. My advice is to make sure he does all these things WITH you. Or you can bet your boots he'll do them with someone else.

Dear Ann Landers: I had lunch today in a little Gypsy tearoom. A fortune teller who works there offered to tell my fortune for $5.

I do not believe in fortune tellers, but I thought it would be interesting, so I agreed. The woman had never seen me before yet she spoke of many things that floored me. She also mentioned a physical problem I have had since birth. When she said, "The operation your doctor wants to perform is not necessary," I was amazed. When I asked her how she knew of the operation she said she has supernatural powers which enable her to receive vibrations which she translates into facts.

I am considering canceling the operation but I don't want to do anything foolish. Advise me, please.—Shook Cookie

Dear Cookie: Does it make sense to you that a person with "supernatural powers" would be soliciting customers in a tearoom?

If you let a fortune teller talk you out of surgery suggested by your doctor you need another doctor—for your head.

Dear Ann Landers: I don't know how to say this but I'll do my best. My husband and I have been married for 12 years and our marriage is better than most. Our sex life has always been very good, at least I thought so. Lately he is interested in things I consider far out. Please tell me what is right and what is wrong? We live in a small town and I can't talk to anyone else about this.—D. C. Dilemma

Dear D. C.: There is no right or wrong in married love. So long as there is mutual agreement and no pain inflicted, whatever two people agree on is "right." Note, I said TWO people.

How will you know when the real thing comes along? Ask Ann Landers. Send for her booklet, "Love Or Sex And How To Tell The Difference," by Ann Landers. Enclose a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed and stamped envelope.

30 Years Ago

The first report of progress in the 1945 Red Cross War Fund drive in Delta County by Fred Earle, campaign treasurer, set the total raised so far at $10,500 or about 30 per cent of the county's $37,900 quota.

50 Years Ago

Three new voting precincts in this city must be created by the time for holding the next November elections. It is now apparent that in the Fourth, Sixth, and Seventh wards, more ballots will have to be cast than is permitted by law. This condition, of course, has been brought about by the addition of the suffrage vote last spring.

Nelson Tells Plans To Fight Pollution

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Success in the battle against pollution will come only when Americans are prepared to organize "effective nonpartisan environmental action committees across this land," says Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis.

Nelson made the comment Wednesday night during a rally attended by nearly 13,000 persons at the University of Michigan. The rally was one of the highlights of a five-day teach-in on man's environment.

Nelson said only political pressure can solve the problems now plaguing the world's pollution problems.

A noted ecologist, Barry Commoner of Washington University in St. Louis, Mo., observed that "I don't know of any way to separate the war issue or the black issue from the environmental issue."

Commoner also noted that April 22, the so-called "earthday," when similar teach-ins will be held at hundreds of colleges and high schools across the country, is also Lenin's birthday. He predicted jokingly that someone in Washington probably would decide the campaign is a communist plot.

His remark drew approving shouts of "right on!" and the clenched fist symbol of the black power movement from many in his audience.

Commoner attacked President Richard Nixon's plans to improve the environment by saying "President Nixon speaks of paying our debt to nature, but in my opinion his program can't even pay the interest on that debt."

Entertainer Arthur Godfrey, who arrived at the campus in an electric car driven from the Detroit suburb of Ferndale some 40 miles away, told the rally, "there's no use looking for someone to blame" for the world's pollution problems. He called for a constructive, coordinated attack upon them.

Godfrey was one of several speakers who singled out population growth as the most urgent problem facing the world. "No technology will help the situation much unless we stop this population growth," he said.

A group of youths, who identified themselves as members of Students for a Democratic Society formed a card section to flash obscenities from their upper level seats in the campus coliseum. Later two of them were given the microphone by a speaker who called for a socialist revolution. The two radical youths presented a list of demands to the university. They sat down before a massive chorus of boos.

Boos greeted several speakers, including University of Michigan President Robben W. Fleming, and Michigan Governor William Milliken.

Several of the speakers were interrupted by shouts from the audience.

Today, the teach-in moves to high school auditoriums for a series of discussions. Workshops are scheduled in many of the university departments. The Michigan Natural Resources Commission was to hold a meeting on the campus.

College Board Talks Finance

Budgets, revenues and expenses for the 1970-71 college operations were discussed in detail at the regular meeting of the Bay de Noc Community College Governing Board Wednesday night.

Dr. Richard Rinehart, president, reported on expenses for 1969-70 as compared with the budget for the year. He said the current rate of spending and of revenues assured the college that the expenses would equal revenue for the year.

The Board also discussed probable amount of delinquency in payment of local taxes, funds received from tuition and fees, and current estimates of federal dollars to be received at the end of the year for vocational education and other grants.

It was noted that the amount now expected for vocational education is less than the amount budgeted due to the reduced amount of Federal money appropriated for this purpose and the method of distribution by the State Department of Education. It was also pointed out that there had been some balance in expenditures due to a reduction in courses being taught by part time faculty members.

Discussion of the 1970-71 budget included wages paid to work study students, tuition rates, the present expectations of state funds, the anticipated state equalized valuation of Delta County upon which local taxes are levied, the estimated amount of federal monies available next year, salary levels for all college employees, library acquisitions and costs of operating the new buildings.

Comparisons of these items and overall operating costs with other community colleges were presented.

In other actions, a report regarding the progress in improvement of policies on tenure and various leaves for faculty was heard, with the conclusion that an additional meeting of the Board must be held in order to develop appropriate policies for acceptance.

Town Calm Despite Bomb Train Mishap

AURORA, Neb. (AP) — How does a quiet little town react when word spreads that 1.7 million pounds of bombs ticketed for Vietnam are strewn at its doorstep by a train derailment?

It happened Wednesday to the central Nebraska town of Aurora, population 2,500. And the people reacted quietly, taking almost a ho-hum attitude.

Mrs. Robert Willis, who lives near the scene of the derailment at the edge of town, said: "I suppose it's normal to worry when you hear the word 'bomb', but there was no panic. People just figured it just happened and there wasn't much danger."

The Willis were among several families who decided to leave their homes after a Burlington-Northern freight train derailed.

Thirty-four boxcars — 13 of them loaded with 750-pound bombs — left the tracks when wheel trouble caused the cars to pile up "like matchsticks," a railroad spokesman said. Damage was estimated at $1 million.

The big bombs, the type used in B52 bombers, were not armed or fused.

"It didn't bother me to walk among the bombs," said Aurora School Supt. Robert Cothren. "There were people all over the place ... No one seemed worried."

After conferring with officials of the Cornhusker Army Ammunition Plant at nearby Grand Island, where the bombs were manufactured, Cothren ordered town schools closed for two days.

A bomb team from Ft. Riley, Kan., arrived late Wednesday and assured the town there was no danger.

The families who left their homes returned Wednesday evening and Cothren had bad news for the children—school would resume today.

Market Slumps In Early Action

NEW YORK (AP) — Prices on the stock market slumped early today in moderately active trading.

This morning the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was behind 1.46 at 776.66.

Losing issues on the New York Stock Exchange exceeded winners 310 to 291.

Analysts said a government survey showing that businesses were planning more capital spending than previously anticipated may be a market depressant.

The reason this news could discourage investors, according to analysts, is that it weakens the case of easing the tight-money policy, which long as sapped the market's strength.

On Wednesday, the market had sagged in the lightest trading volume since Jan. 12. The lack of investor interest was attributed by analysts to the absence of any substantive economic news.

School Program Cuts Considered

Certain school programs may be cut next year as the area board of education seeks to operate on a balanced budget during the 1970-71 school year. Staff reduction, previously mentioned as one alternative to budget solvency, is not presently being considered.

The announcement came from Board President Denton Nelson following an "executive session" during Tuesday night's regular meeting of the board. Also discussed in the closed session was negotiating procedures for the upcoming salary contract talks with both certified and auxiliary service employees.

The board specifically is considering curtailing the services of traveling teachers. This could affect the vocal and instrumental music, art and physical education programs.

Deficit Predicted
The district expects to end the year with an estimated $11,000 deficit and will probably sprout an even brighter shade of red if school aid is decreased next year, as expected, and other operating costs rise, also expected.

A special March 31 meeting will be held to review a proposed budget for submission to the County Allocation Board for local millage in April. Currently the schools receive 6.84 mills in local monies.

The board authorized the superintendent to fill all classroom vacancies which means that all probationary teachers, those who presently have no tenure and less than two full years teaching experience, will be offered contracts for next year.

However, the board said they would not reemploy Miss Patricia Hoeffler, a seventh grade teacher at the Fairview School who is completing her second year in the system.

3 Teachers Needed
Three new teachers are needed now for next year, Supt. Edwin E. Wuehle told the board. There will be one high school and two elementary positions to replace.

Salary negotiations will be handled the same as last year, Nelson said. The board appointed William Mueller, Robert Knoph, Leon Wood and Business Manager Robert Kanerva to negotiate with the auxiliary service employees and Ralph Gillam, Nelson and Wuehle to the certified employees negotiations.

A request from an Upper Hiawatha Township parent to transport her kindergarten youngster home at noon, a 48-mile round trip from the Hiawatha School, was approved by the board after some discussion.

Objects To Plan
Mrs. Kenneth Lakosky said her son now leaves home at 7:30 each day, attends kindergarten during the morning, then goes to the Head Start Program and spends the rest of the afternoon in the first grade room at Hiawatha School until he is bussed home at 4:30 each afternoon. She said she did not want her child in Head Start and asked that arrangements be made to transport the child home at noon when his kindergarten class is dismissed.

Business Manager Robert Kanerva told the board the special bus run would cost about $2,792 per year for the one student. The state allows a maximum of $60 per year for student transportation reimbursement over six miles, Kanerva said.

Trustees Leon Wood and Robert Knoph took exception to the other board members' hesitancy to act on the request during a discussion period.

Knoph insisted he wasn't aware such a situation existed (although it was pointed out that the Sept. 4, 1969 board report included this information).

Wood, apparently angry at the board's reluctance to act immediately, said "you people have had dollar signs in your eyes for so long you're forgetting the children. One child is as important as 100 children and we're here to look out for the children."

The decision to provide transportation, to be worked out by the administration, was unanimous when the vote was finally taken.

School Bus Bids Eyed
Full board approval also was given to advertise specifications and solicit bids for two new 66-passenger buses. Probable cost of the two vehicles was estimated at around $20,000 and will be paid from next year's budget.

An additional $168 expenditure, over a budgeted $1,368, for gym mats also brought full board approval.

Another vote was not unanimous, however, when the authorization to hire another custodian was given. Wood, Knoph and William Mueller voted "no" but were overruled by four "yes" votes cast by Nelson, Gillam, Mrs. Margaret Waters and Mrs. Jeanne Larson.

Head custodian Joe Wood said his present staff was unable to perform necessary maintenance work in all the schools; that some work was presently being done by contractors, an additional expense; and that because of bus runs, vacations and sick days, an additional worker was needed.

Teacher Resigns
In other business, the resignation of Lakeside School teacher Mrs. Clifford Cool was accepted with regrets. She will retire in June. Contract approval for Mrs. Mildred Wickwire, a replacement for the late Mrs. John Hettel at the Doyle School, was okayed as was Mrs. Matt Stram's employment as replacement secretary in the Central business office.

The board also approved suggested administration procedure for hiring an architect to evaluate a proposed building and/or remodeling program and a request from Pat Moberg for sick leave pay to defray educational course expense.

Births
RHODES—Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rhodes, Rte. 1, are the parents of a daughter born Tuesday, March 10, at the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital. The infant weighed eight pounds and six and one-half ounces. Mrs. Rhodes is the former Helene Atherton.

Black Bears Snare Victory In Opener

CHEBOYGAN — The high-flying Big Bay de Noc Black Bears roared again Wednesday night, winning their opening regional tournament game by a 67-54 margin over Indian River Inland Lakes, putting them in the finals against Alanson on Friday.

The Black Bears, rated fourth in the final Associated Press Class D basketball poll this season, chalked up their 20th victory of the season against just one defeat in winning the regional contest.

Big Bay had all five starters scoring in the first period, led by Bill Hartman's six points, and raced to a 15-10 lead before Inland Lakes came back in the second quarter to outscore the Black Bears 19-10 and take a 29-25 lead at half-time.

Inland Lakes used a man-to-man defense on Hartman and John Lewandowski, Big Bay's top two scorers, and had the other three players in a zone defense. Big Bay had trouble hitting from the outside in the second quarter, while Inland Lakes threw in nine field goals.

Hartman and his sophomore brother, Kim, each scored eight of Big Bay's 26 points in the third quarter to help the Black Bears go out in front to stay. The third quarter surge gave Big Bay a 51-41 lead going into the final period of play.

Not wanting to throw away the 10-point lead, Coach Dave Pelletier of the Black Bears decided to slow down the game and his team responded by out-

St. Ignace Upsets Top-Rated Houghton

By DON BOWES

MARQUETTE — The Houghton Gremlins, last of the vanishing unbeaten teams and the top-rated C power in the state, tumbled off the high school basketball tournament trail here Wednesday night.

The St. Ignace Saints, tenth-rated team in the State Class C poll defeated previously unbeaten Houghton 78-60, in opening round of the Class C Regional tourney at the C. B. Hedgcock Fieldhouse on the Northern Michigan University campus.

Bessemer capped the evening's entertainment by knocking off the Norway Knights, 66-56, and will march to the Upper Peninsula finals against St. Ignace Saturday morning.

Gain Revenge

St. Ignace, which lost to Houghton in last year's finals, was not to be denied a victory this year, as the Saints came to play ball, and play they did.

St. Ignace, leading all the way, jumped ahead 4-0 in the early going and led 18-16 at the close of the first quarter and rolled ahead 35-26 at halftime. Houghton's full court press in the first half failed to stop the Saints, as time after time the Saints would break away for easy layups. St. Ignace, on the other hand used a zone defense that was tough to crack, forcing the Gremlins to shoot from the outside.

The Saints, displaying deadly accuracy in the third quarter bombed the Gremlins for 21 points to roll up a 56-35 advantage entering the final period.

Gremlins Charge

The tempo of the game picked up in the final quarter, as the Gremlins outscored the Saints 25-22 behind Gary Lange's nine points, but the Saints had too much of a bulge for the Gremlins to overcome, as they suffered their first defeat after winning 19 straight.

John McKinnon, the Saints outstanding forward, put on a tremendous show by ripping the boards for 19 rebounds and leading the St. Ignace attack with 21 points. Leo Donovan, also a demon on the boards with 15 rebounds, had 18 points, while Jeff Savard chipped in with 16 and Roger Schlehuber 11 to lead the Saint attack.

Houghton's Brian Salo led all scorers with 23 points on 11 field goals and one free throw, while Gary Lange, the U.P. scoring leader for the season, had 18.

St. Ignace shot 44 per cent from the field, for the evening making 32 of 72 attempts, while Houghton made 27 of 74 tries for 36 per cent. The big difference in the game was on the boards where the taller Saints grabbed 50 rebounds to the Gremlins 33.

Kill Rally

In the nightcap of the doubleheader, the Bessemer Speed Boys had to hold off a rousing rally by the Norway Knights in the second half to register their victory.

Norway took early leads of 7-4 and 8-6 before the Speed Boys gained their form to run out to a 20-14 lead at the end of the quarter. Bessemer continued to dominate the game in the second quarter by outpointing the Knights 16-9 and building their margin to 38-23 at the half.

The Speed Boys, who played the entire game using a full court, man-to-man press, caused the Knights to lose the ball time after time in the first half and shot at a blistering 53 per cent clip while Norway was shooting a cool 22 per cent.

The Knights, changing their defensive strategy, went into a full court press of their own in the third frame and closed the gap to seven, 48-41, entering the final frame. Ray Bray led the Norway comeback with 9 points on two three point plays in the quarter.

Win In Stretch

Bessemer opened in the final quarter by jumping off to an 11-point spread before the Knights came back to within six, 56-50, with 3:40 remaining

Allen Agrees To Terms; Hague Could Care Less

By The Associated Press

Richie Allen missed the deadline and Joe Hague is making the most of the opportunity.

Allen, the St. Louis Cardinals newly acquired slugger failed to arrive Wednesday at St. Petersburg, Fla., for a 10 a.m. deadline set up by the Cardinals brass. However, Allen, in Philadelphia, agreed to terms late Wednesday for a reported $85,000 and said he would report to training today.

"We ain't gonna give in," said

St. Louis owner Gussie Busch earlier in the day of Allen's request for a $125,000 contract. Allen, who clouted 32 homers and batted .288 for the Philadelphia Phils last year, reportedly earned $70,000-$80,000 last year.

"He's going to play at our figure or he's not going to play for the Cardinals," Busch said.

Meanwhile, Hague, who figured to battle Allen for the first base job, cracked a home run and added a single in the Cards' 4-3 victory Wednesday over Detroit.

Hague, a slugging left-handed hitter, batted .332 with 16 homers for Tulsa of the Texas League. Dal Maxvill also had a two-run single for the Cards while Don Wert slammed a homer for the Tigers.

Washington made in five in a row, stopping the winless Minnesota Twins 12-11. Gene Martin crashed a grand slam homer and Mike Epstein a solo shot for the undefeated Senators. The Twins, 0-5, had homers by Cesar Tovar and Jim Nettles and a pair by Tony Oliva.

Rick Monday cracked a three-run blast and Oakland snapped a four-game losing string with an 8-3 triumph over California. Tom Reynolds and Randy Duncan also had a round-tripper for the A's while Rick Reichardt connected for the Angels.

The Baltimore Orioles swept to a 12-10 thriller over the Chicago White Sox on the slugging of Paul Blair, who cracked two 400-foot plus homers. And Eliebarren drilled a homer for the Orioles with Duane Josephson and Walt Williams rapped homers for the Sox.

Willie Crawford's two-run ninth inning homer climaxed a four-run inning as the Los Angeles Dodgers nipped Houston 15-14. Bill Sudakis also connected for the Dodgers while Andy Kosco had five hits for the winners.

Norm Miller and Doug Rader homered for the Astros in the game, featuring 38 hits, 21 by the Dodgers.

Ron Hansen cracked a game-winning 11th-inning single as the New York Yankees topped Atlanta 5-4. Bill Robinson had the Yanks first homer of the spring while Marlan Murphy crashed a two-run blow for the Braves.

Home runs by Bob Oliver and Lon Piniella powered Kansas City over Montreal 6-4. Ruben Amaro had four hits for the Expos.

An eighth-inning sacrifice fly by Cleo James gave the Chicago Cubs their 5-4 victory over Seattle.

The New York Mets rolled to a 6-3 victory over Philadelphia with Al Weis leading the attack with two runs batted in. Byron Browne slammed a two-run triple for the Phils.

Dock Ellis pitched shutout ball for five innings, scattering two hits, and Al Oliver socked a home run, leading the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 4-2 triumph over Cincinnati.

The San Diego-San Francisco game was called because of wet grounds.

Atlanta Nips Rockets; Hudson Hits 48 Points

By The Associated Press

Lou Hudson says he knew he had the touch from the start. But the Atlanta Hawks didn't know they had the ball game until the closing seconds.

Hudson poured in 48 points in leading Atlanta to a 122-121 National Basketball Association victory over the San Diego Rockets Wednesday night. Bill Bridges sank two free throws with 37 seconds remaining to pull it out after the Hawks wiped out a 13-point deficit with a fourth period rally.

The triumph boosted the Hawks' Western Division lead to 1 1/2 games over the idle Los Angeles Lakers.

In other NBA games, the Boston Celtics downed the Cincinnati Royals 144-127 and the San Francisco Warriors subdued the Baltimore Bullets 115-112 in double overtime.

Indiana edged Pittsburgh 122-120 in overtime. Los Angeles outlasted New York 98-92. Denver topped Washington 126-106 in American Basketball Association action.

Elvin Hayes, who topped San Diego with 37 points, had an opportunity to tie the game against Atlanta but sank only one of two free throws with 26 seconds left. That ended the scoring for the night.

Hudson hit 29 points in the first quarter as Atlanta jumped to a 30-25 lead. San Diego battled to a 57-all deadlock at halftime, then boosted its lead to 13 points twice before the Hawks came alive. Joe Caldwell, who had 21 points, Walt Bellamy, 16, and Hudson led the way.

Hudson connected on 22-of-33 field goal attempts. Bailey Howell and Larry Siegfried paced Boston past Cincinnati as each tossed in 23 points. John Havlicek added 17, while veteran Johnny Green topped the Royals with a season high of 32 points. He also grabbed 14 rebounds.

The Celtics, officially eliminated from the playoffs Tuesday night, ran up leads of 20 points four times in the second half. Bill Turner of the Royals suffered a head concussion in the second quarter and was taken to a Cincinnati hospital, where his condition was reported as good. Turner collided with teammate Norm Van Lier and struck his head on the floor.

Jeff Mullins and Fritz Williams scored nine of San Francisco's 10 points in the second overtime period as the Warriors outlasted Baltimore. A tip-in by Clyde Lee of San Francisco at the buzzer of regulation time sent the game into the first overtime. Wes Unseld's rebound for the Bullets in the final second of the first extra period set the stage for the second overtime.

Mullins and Williams paced the Warriors with 28 points apiece while Earl Monroe was high for Baltimore with 31.

Pistons To Have Bing Next Season

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's Dave Bing finally said flatly that he will play for the Pistons next year.

Speculation had grown that Bing, who signed a contract with the Washington Capitals for 1971-72, might not be with Detroit for his option season.

"I'll be here next year, merger or no merger," the 26-year-old star guard said Tuesday night after the Pistons' 115-112 victory over Boston.

Bing said he wouldn't consider sitting out a season in Washington. "I wouldn't do that even if they asked me. I'll want to play."

The Washington Caps were reported to have offered Bing $500,000 to jump with them into the American Basketball Association.

Since recovering from early-season knee and foot injuries, he has played some of the best games of his four-season pro career.

McLain's Absence Hurts Tiger Hopes For Pennant

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Detroit's chances of winning the American League pennant flickered and all but died Feb. 19 when Denny McLain was suspended indefinitely by commissioner Bowie Kuhn for "1967 bookmaking activities and his associations at that time."

As manager Mayo Smith said at the time, "where do you pick up 24 games? That's the problem."

The job of replacing McLain, a 24-9 winner in 1969 and a 31-6 sensation for the 1968 world champs, is all but impossible. Nobody knows for sure how long McLain's suspension will last but Tiger fans might well prepare for the worst.

"I told the team that with the personnel we have we can win this thing without him (McLain)," said Smith with a brave attempt to whistle past the graveyard. "This thing just makes our job that much tougher."

The effect of McLain's suspension on the rest of the ball club has to be devastating. In spite of all their problems, the Tigers are going about the job of getting ready for the American League race and trying to close ranks. Even before the McLain case broke, Detroit faced an awesome task of trying to make up 19 games on Baltimore which won the Eastern Division title in a cakewalk last summer, ending the Tigers' one-year reign.

Smith has a pat answer when asked what happened to the Tigers last year. He sums it up in one word, "Baltimore." But, of course, it was not all Baltimore. In 1968 the Tigers were 103-59, romping by 12 and beating St. Louis in the World Series. Last year they were 90-72 and had fallen 13 1/2 games back before the end of June.

Mike Lolich automatically moves up to the No. 1 position on the staff which Smith must reorganize. Mike Kilkenny, a relief pitcher until last July, fits into the starting rotation with Joe Niekro, acquired from San Diego in a trade, and 34-year-old Earl Wilson. Jerry Robertson, former Montreal Expo who came to the Tigers for Joe Sparma in a move to bolster the bullpen, may have to be a spot starter, John Hiller, another relief man, also will get a whirl as a third left-handed starter.

Dennis Saunders and Bill Galbreath, a non-roster man, are a couple of kids for the future. Tom Timmerman, Bob Reed and sidearming Fred Lasher figure for relief work. Al Kaline will be used at first base more than last year, alternating with Norm Cash in order to give a pair of 35-year-olds a chance to rest now and then. Kaline also will be in right field against certain pitching with Willie Horton, the club's leader in homers and RBI, in left field and Mickey Stanley in center. When Kaline goes to first, Jim Northrup will be the third outfielder. As of now, no more shortstop work for Stanley.

Much depends on the comeback of Dick McAuliffe who underwent surgery on his right knee last summer. McAuliffe didn't play after July 13 but Smith is convinced his second baseman will be 100 per cent long before the opener. Cesar Gutierrez, former San Francisco Giant, is Smith's hope at shortstop with Tom Tresh still recuperating from a knee operation. Don Wert or ex-Boston player Dalton Jones will handle third with rookie Elliott Maddox, up from Rocky Mount, an outside bet.

Bill Freehan will handle the bulk of the catching, backed by Jim Price. The Tigers wait for the phone to ring from commissioner Kuhn's office with a final decision on the McLain case. In the meantime they're getting ready. It may be a long wait.

Kuhn Expects Regular Start

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn says he doesn't anticipate a strike for the opening of the new season because the players' mood is "to play ball."

Kuhn said negotiations by Marvin Miller, executive director of the Players Association, "with the various clubs are being carried on at a low key and I don't anticipate a strike."

The commissioner held an informal news conference here Wednesday, discussing some of the problems confronting baseball and declining to talk about other problems.

He refused to discuss the Denny McLain case. The ace Detroit pitcher was suspended indefinitely for what Kuhn called McLain's bookmaking activities in 1967 and his associations that year.

"I do not want to discuss the case until our investigations are complete," he said. "I have not talked with McLain since I have been down here (in Florida) for spring training. No do I intend to."

Asked about a report Detroit had fined McLain, Kuhn said: "He has not been fined."

Wings' Captain Plans To Retire

TORONTO (AP) — Alex Delvecchio may have made his last appearance as a player in Toronto's Maple Leaf Gardens Wednesday but as far as the 32-year-old captain of the Detroit Red Wings is concerned, the summation is speculative.

After his team trimmed the Toronto Maple Leafs 3-1 Wednesday, the veteran is "seriously considering" retirement.

Delvecchio, now in his 10th year as the Red Wings captain, admitted he has been feeling increasingly tired as the season wore on, and he has thought about hanging up his skates "since before Christmas."

"Things were getting rough," Delvecchio said as he slowly changed into street clothes. "I've had a sore shoulder nearly the full season and find I don't recuperate that quickly."

The three-time winner of the Lady Byng Trophy, awarded for combining outstanding play with gentlemanly conduct, picked up his 679th career assist on the Red Wings' lead goal by Frank Mahovlich. The veteran center has scored 391 goals and 1,070 career points.

"I would like to stay in hockey in some capacity," Delvecchio said "but right now I don't know what."

Asked if he would consider a coaching job, Delvecchio replied without hesitation. "I've never considered coaching. There are dozens of scouts and other people around. Too many worries."

"Besides I think that's for Gordie Howe anyway," Delvecchio said as an afterthought.

Delvecchio, who has spent his entire amateur and professional career in the Detroit organization, inferred that Howe, the Red Wings' 23-year veteran, is the heir-apparent as coach.

Sid Abel, manager-coach, indicated earlier this season he plans to vacate the bench duties at the end of the year.

Abel said he is not taking seriously the report that Delvecchio will retire at the end of this season.

"Alex has not told me he plans to quit and I won't believe it unless he calls me up before training camp next fall and says he's not going to show up," Abel said.

One Policeman Killed, Another Hurt In Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Four persons were held today for questioning in the shotgun slaying Wednesday night of a black police officer and the wounding of another patrolman.

Killed was William Slappey, 24, who had been with the Detroit police force for a little over two years.

Wounded patrolman Charles McEwen, 26, also a Negro, was struck by gunfire in the upper left shoulder and was reported in good condition at Detroit's Ford Hospital.

At a news conference called shortly after the shooting, Detroit Police Commissioner Patrick V. Murphy said Slappey was shot while investigating a complaint in an apartment building in north-central Detroit. Murphy refused to elaborate on the purpose of the investigation.

Briefly Told

AMVETS Post 123 will meet today at 8 p.m. in the AMVETS Hall, 1311 N. Lincoln Road.

Tryouts for the Players de Noc production of "Bell, Book and Candle" will be held in room 10 of Bay de Noc Community College at 7:30 tonight and tomorrow night.

Boy Scout Troop 444, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club will leave Friday afternoon for a winter camp out at Pioneer Trail Park. Anyone interested in viewing the Boy Scout camp can visit on Saturday afternoon. The main project of the boys will be to build outdoor shelters.

Here Are Some Signs Of Slipping Prestige

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — How can you tell whether your prestige is slipping?

"Recently you listed a number of ways a fellow could tell if his status image was okay," writes a reader. "But what if he has begun to slip, doesn't realize it, and even his best friend doesn't want to tell him?"

Well, if he's alert to his own welfare, that shouldn't be too difficult for him to figure out. There are certain unmistakable signs.

For example, you can be sure you're on the toboggan slide if—

The office boy starts using your hanger on the coatrack.

The boss still calls you Charley when, after 15 years, he should know darned well that your name is Jim.

When you plump down in the company cafeteria during a coffee break and start telling a story, everybody else at the table gets up and leaves before you reach the punchline.

You work under 10 guys who used to work under you.

The PTA throws you out for nonpayment of dues—$5 a year.

When you go to a cocktail party, none of your neighbors' wives is willing to go out into the kitchen with you to hold hands or kiss.

The guys in your block organize a tennis league and you're not asked to join. Tennis anyone? Why, heck, you can't even find anyone to pitch horseshoes with.

If you phone your dear old Mom on Mother's Day to congratulate her, she declines to accept the call until she is sure she won't be stuck with the charges.

You sit down on a park bench and the pigeons and squirrels, instead of approaching you for a handout, immediately flutter or scurry to the next bench.

The barber never asks whether you want a tonic or a massage; he knows he'll be lucky if he gets a dime tip for cutting your hair.

You hate to lug your briefcase to and from the office because it has so many patches on it.

No longer does your wife go through your pockets after you fall asleep. She knows it isn't worth the trouble because there's nothing in them.

At the zoo when you toss a peanut to the elephant, he turns the shell over and over with his trunk, suspicious that you ate the nut in it yourself.

Your family car is so old and fender-broken that your teenage children never ask permission to drive it. When you take your wife on a trip in it, she slides down low in the seat in hopes that no one she knows will recognize her.

Even the postman doesn't bother to ring twice at your door. He jabs the bell once and goes on.

If all these things are true of you, you don't have to worry about where you stand in the big rat race. You are already a rodent dropout. About the only chance you have left to gain status is to try to get into a mouse race.

OK Dissolution

ST. CLAIR (AP) — The St. Clair County Health Commission has voted to recommend the dissolution of the Thumb District Health Association. The association, formed in 1967, includes representatives of St. Clair, Lapeer and Tuscola counties.

Driver Killed

JACKSON (AP) — A 26-year-old Jackson man was killed Wednesday when his car went out of control, rolled over and hit a tree on a rural road near Jackson.

Police identified the victim as Philip Daly. Officers said Daly was alone.
